

This is ridiculous to think that the FAB or Congress can limit access to something as simple as weather or traffic simply because they are afraid of competition.